*Dr. North is the father of Sophie North, 2nd child from the left, 2nd row from the bottom, in the above photo. Sophie, her teacher, and 15 other children in this picture were killed in the Dunblane shooting, and 10 other students and three other teachers were wounded. Dr. North subsequently helped lead the successful campaign to completely ban handguns in Great Britain. There have been no further school shootings since the ban went into effect, and the rate of gun-related deaths in Britain is currently 1/70th the rate in the United States.
